

Jace - Characteristics of Effective Learning

Jace is a real explorer! He likes to be involved in all that is happening around him and takes a real interest in other people and especially things in the outdoor environment. With an adult supporting and prompting, he is starting to stay at an activity or in an area of learning for longer and is not so easily distracted. Jace is very caring and enjoys helping others and looks after our classroom.

Jace is inquisitive and is currently fascinated by seeing the changes when ice melts to water outside. In situations like this, his confidence to talk and share his ideas with others is demonstrated. Jace explores in a sensory way, loving to smell and taste! With support he is starting to use a range of vocabulary to express himself in these situations.
