

Elliana is a happy and quietly confident girl. She enjoys familiar role play, often re-enacting home scenarios and outside interests in her play. She is always willing to have a go at new activities and will confidently talk to visitors to the class. She demonstrates strong levels of concentration in both adult directed and self-initiated activities and will persevere when faced with challenges. She demonstrates her creativity in the small world area where she will often make objects to enhance her play such as pony jumps and rosettes.

Notes
 Elliana chose a magazine from the comic box.
 She decoded the title and said
 "I love birds. I hope it's got a picture of a robin in.
 They are my favourite bird"
 Elliana decoded the speech bubble that said
 the birds are back for spring.

Next Steps
 To continue to use her phonic knowledge to support her self initiated reading.

Notes
 Elliana was working in the classroom at the graffiti table. Elliana independently wrote a sentence. She held the pen using a tripod grip and was able to start with a capital letter and use finger spaces.

"I've written I go to the zoo. I love going to the zoo, you see such amazing animals."

Next steps
 To continue to write in sentences that can be read by others.
